PREPARING FOR THE ANNIVERSARY

Open Office here for Carrying on Work in Connection with Battle Anniversary Preparations. Officials here—

Captain Edward T. Hartmann, representing the War Department, at Washington, and Colonel Lewis E. Beiler, secretary of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg Commission, arrived in town on Wednesday afternoon to open an office, establish headquarters and take charge of the preliminary details relative to the big battle anniversary celebration next July.

A force of clerks, engineers and assistants will arrive from Washington in several weeks and the active work in connection with the big event will be continued from now on until some time after the celebration is concluded. Captain Hartmann, will likely be in charge of the local office and will have an assistant in charge and on the ground.

With the force of men there will be a superintendent of construction who will have in hand the inspection of all the work done by the various contractors in the erection of buildings and the many other forms of work which will be carried on here between now and next July.

There is to be no delay whatever in starting work. Advertisements will be placed for the sinking of several wells and for the erection of the various buildings necessary to take care of the crowd of veterans, forty thousand of whom will have accommodations in a camp provided by the War Department.

Three or four wells will be sunk, the number depending on the flow of water secured. Some of the local water company's supply will be used but much of this will be required in the town on account of the hosts who are expected here and as a result the least possible amount will be taken from the borough supply.

The laying out of the camp will take up the time of the engineers for several weeks at least and the establishment of lines, the location of buildings and the other details will compose a task which will take many weeks to complete.

The pitching of canvas will not start until a few weeks prior to the formal opening of the battle anniversary celebration on July 1, 1913 and this will be in charge of a large and competent corps of men from the army. For weeks prior to this the camp sites southwest of town will be scenes of the greatest activity and during the coming months Gettysburg will see busy preparations. Many of the building contracts will be large and it is likely that much imported labor will be brought here for the active work of construction.

BOY SHOTS OFF HIS OWN HAND

East Berlin Lad Has Mishap which Caused him the Loss of his Hand. Another Gunning Accident in the County.

Charles Hildebrand, the fifteen-year-old son of James Hildebrand, of East Berlin, accidentally shot himself in the left hand and it was found necessary to amputate it. The boy was about a mile outside the East Berlin limits gunning, and was climbing over a fence at the time of the accident.

He had put his gun on the other side of the fence, and a stick protruded through the finger guard lying over the trigger. When Hildebrand jumped he struck the stick discharging his gun. His left hand, which he placed over the muzzle as he made the leap, received the full charge and was shattered.

The boy accompanied by his companions with whom he had been gunning ran into town to the Baulblitz hotel, seeking Dr. Engle, who boards there, but who was at his office further away from where the boy was shot. The lad was bleeding profusely from his wound and by this time greatly weakened, pluckily ran to the physician's office.

Dr. Engle took the boy to the York hospital, where the amputation was made by Dr. H. B. King.

A brother of Edward Masemer, of Harrisburg, and a man by the name of Bradley, of the same city, came to the home of the former at Creager's mill, near New Chester, on a hunting expedition. While the two men were in quest of game some distance from the mill, Masemer's gun was in some manner accidentally discharged, and the full charge of shot struck Bradley, who was but a short distance away. The man's body, head and limbs were literally peppered with shot, and his wounds were of very serious nature. Dr. Leh, of Hampton, gave the necessary treatment. Anti-toxin was used as a precaution against tetanus. The man was immediately sent to his home at Harrisburg, and latest reports are to the effect that he is improving.

WELSH CHORUS

Men's Chorus Final Evening Attraction for Institute Week.

The Welsh Prize Chorus which will appear at Teachers' Institute Thursday evening is an organization composed of members of the famous singing club of Utica, N. Y. "Philharmonic Society," which has probably more victories to its credit and has won more money in competition than any similar singing organization in the country today. The members of the Welsh Prize Chorus have been selected with great care from this excellent body of singers and will make a tremendous success of their concert tour during the season of 1910-1911. Most of the singers are paid soloists in the leading churches of Utica and are constantly in demand for concert work.

BUYING RAILS

Western Maryland Preparing for the Work of Coming Year.

While the Western Maryland's rail order for 1913 has not been placed and the total requirements are not known, it is stated on good authority that about 7,000 tons will be used for renewals alone. As the Western Maryland is to do considerable amount of what is virtually double tracking, in the shape of many long sidings, during the coming year, its rail requirements will be large for a road of its mileage.

The work of putting in steel bridges between Gettysburg and Baltimore continues.

FIRE DESTROYS A COUNTY BARN

Barn of Lewis Kane Burns while he and his Sons are Enjoying Life in Deer Hunting Camp. Stock is Saved.

During the absence of Lewis Kane and his sons at deer camp the large barn on his farm in Franklin township burned to the ground between three and four o'clock this morning together with the wagon shed, chicken house and hog pen. All the stock was saved with the exception of some chickens but much of the contents burned.

Shortly before four o'clock one of the children became restless and awakened Mrs. Kane. She heard a noise at the barn which sounded like a falling plank and she looked out but saw nothing wrong. Soon afterward another member of the household saw the blaze and the women with some neighbors hurried to the place and managed to save the stock but a quantity of hay, grain, harness and some machinery burned.

The barn was located on the site of a similar structure which burned about twenty one years ago. The farm is known as the Peter Schlosser farm and is situated in Franklin township midway between Cashtown and Arendtsville.

Mr. Kane, it is said, carried some insurance. He and his sons were notified during the morning of the mishap which had occurred and they hurried home from the deer hunting camp.

DICKINSON SORE

That Dickinson is very sore over the thorough trouncing given them in the last half of Saturday's game is shown in the following from the Carlisle Sentinel:

"Somehow or other Gettysburg cannot get away from meanness that has characterized the athletic department of the institution for years, so that Dickinson could not hear the signals given the Gettysburg rooters made a din and noise and the referee rightfully stopped it. It was just such spirit as this that led Dickinson to sever athletic relations with Gettysburg in the past. Surely the better class—the thinking class of the Gettysburg student body would not approve of such baby conduct, but the wonder is that they have not sufficient influence or authority to see that it does not occur.

"Judging from the fierceness and unnecessary rough playing on the part of Gettysburg team, we judge that somebody must take them occasionally to the Bloody Angle for a talk."

The above stuff sounds very much like the cry of the poor loser which was published in another Carlisle paper several years ago after Gettysburg's 10-3 victory over Dickinson. Gettysburg's cheering did not sound well to the Dickinson section, it is true, but noise was not made with the idea in view of preventing the Dickinson men from hearing signals. This is shown by the fact that the local leaders had trouble to urge the Gettysburg rooters to keep quiet not only when Dickinson had the ball but also when our own team was playing on the offense. The requests of the officials for quiet when Dickinson had the ball were quickly answered with silence and there was no complaint.

The officials were surely vigilant enough to take care of all just claims to "unnecessary roughness." Dickinson's cry sounds much like that of Ohio State who refused to play out their game Saturday because the Penn State boys were not sufficiently ladylike.

Dickinson puts up a good kick however on the poor seating accommodations on Nixon Field. However they should remember that both sides suffered and that many of Gettysburg's rooters have to stand at Carlisle whenever the game is played there while Dickinson occupies their spacious grandstand.

However so long as the memory of that $400 left here on Saturday lingers in the minds of the Carlisle people together with the fact that Gettysburg gained 304 to Dickinson's 233 yards we may expect mourning in the Carlisle camp.

SCHOOLS BETTER THAN MOST HOMES

Says Institute Instructor. Less Dis-sension in the School Room than among Members of Families in their Homes.

"The average public school of today is run with less friction than the average home," said Dr. O. T. Corson, of Columbus, in a lecture before the teachers of the Adams County Institute on Wednesday afternoon.

"With what delight do the papers of the country publish the news of some disagreement or trouble in a public school. And it is not remarkable that they give space to these things for they are so rare that they make good reading. I know of one little unpleasantness which was taken up by an Associated Press correspondent and sent all over the country. What would happen if the same thing were done with news of domestic troubles? If any paper ever started publishing that sort of news the entire sheet would soon be filled and parents would be afraid to read it lest their names should appear under heavy headlines in the first column.

"The average child taxes to the limit the resources of the father and mother and the remarkable discipline maintained in the public schools of today is to my mind the great modern miracle. Here we find not forty children who act like one, but forty children each one of whom acts like forty."

"I have never seen anything sadder than a child who will not obey. Don't censure the child for it is practically always the parents who are to blame. In all my experience at teaching in the country, town and city schools I have never known a serious case of discipline which did not start in a home where obedience was not taught.

"I remember one instance where both father and mother—it took them both to do it—brought a six year old incorrigible son to school with the warning that he would be a bad one to manage. I had no trouble with the boy but a few weeks later the parents complained to the school board about the discipline of the school, probably jealous over the good results obtained.

"I cannot think of a boy going wrong when the parents will join hands with the teacher to save him. The great problem of the public school, the home and the church is the training of children, to make good men and good women—good citizens—and they can accomplish this with the proper sort of co-operation."

Wednesday evening's entertainment was the best thing of the sort which has ever been given before a Gettysburg teachers' institute. Clifton Mallory and a company rendered the delightful English comedy "David Garrick" to the great delight of a large audience. The cast was strong throughout, the costumes elaborate and the production one of the best theatrical offerings which Gettysburg has ever been privileged to witness. The music by the college orchestra added to the success of the entertainment.

DEER SHY

Hunters Say that Animals are More Timid than for Some Time.

Deer hunters back from the mountains report that there is a singular shyness on the part of many animals in the territories over which they have been hunting. The deer apparently have taken to the tall timbers and many of the city hunters, who have been reading of deer rooting up crops and standing in the roads watching automobiles whizz by, are at a loss to account for the conditions. The real woodsmen, however, are not heard from.

FARM FOR SALE

The undersigned Executor of John Hammers, deceased, late of Highland township, Pa., will sell at private sale the farm 34 miles West of Gettysburg, called the "Sunnyside" Farm, containing about 100 acres, about 80 acres of land clean as any garden, the rest is growing tall timber, poplar, oak and hickory. This farm can be bought cheap, part of the money can remain in the property. The interest in 20 acres of growing grain can go with the sale. Fruit experts say there is no land within the county better adapted for fruit than this farm. This farm planted in apple and peach would bring $10,000 in a few years.

If not sold by January 1, 1913, I will be for rent. Farms all around this are asking from $2,000 to $3,000 more than asked for this farm. This farm now produces as good crops without lime and fertilizers, as farms of like size do with, which speaks well for the soil.

WAR WILL STOP PENDING PARLEY

Turkey Negotiating With Bulgars For Armistice.

PEACE TERMS ARE DRASTIC

Bottom Nation Faces Loss of Nearly All European Empire as Cost of War.

London, Nov. 21.—The fighting has ceased for the moment between the Turkish and Bulgarian armies struggling for the possession of the key to the gates of Constantinople, and the opposing commander-in-chiefs are engaged in negotiating the terms of an armistice.

If these negotiations prove successful they will be preparatory to a meeting of plenipotentiaries who will discuss conditions of peace.

In accordance with the suggestion contained in the Bulgarian note that the allied Balkan nations are prepared to meet the Turkish commander-in-chief with a view to arranging an armistice, the Ottoman government has appointed Nazim Pasha to confer with General Savoff, the Bulgarian leader.

The Turkish general, who has been putting up such an excellent defense of the ramparts of the capital, now has thrown on him the additional burden of deciding whether or not a further display of tenacity behind the fortifications of Tchatalja may bring easier terms and save to the Ottoman empire more than Constantinople and a strip of Thrace along the shores of the Sea of Marmora, which, seemingly, is all that the conquerors are at present disposed to leave to the vanquished.

In the meantime the two armies hold their respective positions. How long this armed truce will be maintained, however, will depend on the terms of peace offered by the League of the Balkan nations and on whether the hitherto futile attacks by the Bulgarians on the Tchatalja lines have inspired the Turks with hopes that the fortunes of war may yet turn in their favor.

Reports regarding the conditions proposed by the allies are conflicting. It is officially stated in Constantinople that the agreement of the allies to discuss the terms of an armistice and the preliminaries of peace does not stipulate any conditions.

Simultaneously with the lull on the battlefield comes news of a diminution of tension in the Austro-Serbian dispute by the compliance of Serbia with the demand of the Austrian government for an investigation on the spot of the complaint made by the Austrian consul at Pristina that he had been hindered by the Serbians in the performance of his duties.

On the other hand, there is nothing yet to indicate a solution of the question of Serbia's demand for ports on the Adriatic sea. If, as is threatened, she diverts her army, released by the fall of Monastir, to the country of the Arnaut tribesmen, her relations with Austria-Hungary will, it is thought, be further imperiled.

The Bulgarian premier, M. Gueshoff, has telegraphed to Kiamil Pasha, the Turkish grand vizier, the conditions under which the Bulgars will consent to an armistice. The allies previously had announced their readiness to consider the proposition made to them by Turkey for an armistice, with peace in view, and this is their answer.

The allies will not enter Constantinople if the forts of Tchatalja are evacuated and four important Turkish towns are surrendered, according to reports of the peace conditions. Adrianople, which has stood out against Bulgar and Serb since first the Bulgarians came across the border at Mustapha Pasha, and where so many Turks have lost their lives in desperate sallies in the face of galling artillery fire, where cholera and famine have been as bitter an enemy of the Turk as the foe outside his walls.

Scutari, which the Montenegrins are besieging and have been besieging since shortly after they started the war, must be given up by the Turk if he seeks an armistice.

Janina, beleaguered by the Greeks, and Dibra, in Albania, must also be given up by the Turks.

Constantinople and the Dardanelles are to be left to Turkey. Opinion in London is not so optimistic as it is in Paris. It is pointed out that Turkey's acceptance of the terms laid down by Bulgaria and her allies for an armistice is by no means certain, especially in view of the successes which Nazim Pasha claims in the defense of the Tchatalja lines.

On the other hand, the demand of the allies strictly follows precedent. The Russo-Turkish armistice in 1878 provided for the surrender of several fortresses which were still uncapitulated. The Russians signed an armistice at Adrianople, and did not have to fight their way across Southern Thrace, yet they claimed and received possession of the Tchatalja lines.

Swallows False Teeth; Dies.
St. Petersburg, Nov. 21.—A Prince Vlasemsky, first secretary of the Russian embassy at London, since last summer, died at a hospital here as the result of swallowing the small gold plate of a false tooth. The plate cut the intestines severely, and a surgical operation which was performed was unsuccessful.

THOMPSON, U. S. TREASURER

President's Secretary Named—Hilles Back to His Old Job.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Carmi Thompson, secretary to the president, was formally appointed United States treasurer to succeed Lee McClung. He will assume his duties at once.

Charles D. Hilles, chairman of the national Republican committee and former secretary to the president, will resume his old duties when Thompson leaves.

BRYAN FOR HARMONY AMONG DEMOCRATS

Shows Conciliatory Spirit to His Opponents.

Washington, Nov. 21.—A Democratic policy of harmony is being evolved and William J. Bryan is one of the moving spirits in the affair.

The Democratic leaders have been somewhat exercised by the repeated stories that President-elect Wilson was confronting many varieties of trouble due to factional strife in his party, and after frequent conferences have decided to avoid, as far as they can, any internal party strife.

In his recent visit to Washington Mr. Bryan, who, it is now known, can be secretary of state in the new administration, and who, unless he may change his mind, will accept that place, displayed a very conciliatory spirit, entirely out of keeping with his traditional attitude.

Leading Democrats in Washington are pleased over what appears to be the changed attitude of their former militant leader. They believe it augurs well for party harmony, and if persisted in will remove much of the sting of Mr. Bryan's appointment as the chief adviser in President Wilson's cabinet.

Speaker Clark's attitude toward Mr. Bryan is a source of constant discomfort to those Democrats who are planning for party harmony. Speaker Clark and Mr. Bryan have not met since the convention at Baltimore. Their friends do not conceal a fear that such a meeting may be marked by a scene that will be embarrassing to both men and a source of personal regret to the friends of both.

Homer also will endeavor to persuade the other three electors of Utah to do the same, though Mrs. Witcher is one of the number.

The support of the Vermont electors also will be sought. Mrs. Witcher is serving her second term as county clerk of Salt Lake county. She is a daughter of C. S. Zane, former chief justice of the supreme court of Utah.

THOUSANDS DIE IN TIDAL WAVE

Two Jamaica Towns Are Destroyed.

THE GOVERNOR RUSHES AID

Homes Have Been Wrecked and Crops Greatly Damaged—Forty-two Dead in Montego Bay.

Kingston, Jamaica, Nov. 21. — A great tidal wave is reported to have practically wiped out the town of Savannah la Mar, on the southwest coast, and Lucea, on the northwest coast of Jamaica.

Lucea is a town of 2000 inhabitants on an inlet on the northwest coast of Jamaica, while Savannah la Mar is a seaport with about the same population on the southwest coast, almost directly across the island.

It is reported in Kingston that the entire population of both towns was killed by the wave.

Forty-two persons were killed by the hurricane in Montego Bay, according to a report brought by a fruit vessel which arrived at Port Antonio. Later reports say the entire wharf frontage at Montego Bay has been wrecked.

Confirmation has now come to hand of the great destruction caused by the hurricane in the western end of the island. Floods which accompanied the storm caused immense damage, a hundred houses being blown down. Telegraphic communication is still suspended.

The governor of Jamaica has left on a special train accompanied by a detachment of artillerymen, who have taken with them 300 tents and food stuffs, as in certain sections the survivors are homeless and destitute.

The gale began on Nov. 15 and continued in increasing fury for several days. Vessels arriving in port reported that the wind was blowing more than 100 miles an hour.

The observer in the meteorological station in the western part of the island sent the following report:

"The full force of the hurricane struck here Monday. The observatory was partly wrecked."

MIDDIES GOAT IS DEAD

New Mascot Will Appear at Football Game With Army.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 21.—Gloom settled upon the brigade of midshipmen when the news was passed around that "Bill," the goat who had acted as mascot with success at the last two Army-Navy football games, bringing home victories, was dead.

Bill was apparently a healthy goat Tuesday night and was looking forward with interest to occupying his usual prominent position at Franklin Field on Nov. 30. Yesterday morning he was found dead, and there is some suspicion that he was poisoned.

The midshipmen were hard hit by the announcement of the death, and for awhile it was taken as a bad sign. Presently one midshipman doped it out, and his idea generally was accepted.

"Bill," he said, "had died for the cause. He realized that he had helped the team to two victories and knew that a new jinx was necessary to keep up the winning streak. So he died and gave way to a new mascot."

A new goat, an Angora, has been obtained and will be seen on Franklin Field in a brand new overcoat.

MAN AND WIFE SHOT; HUNTER ARRESTED

Say Killing of Dog by Auto
 Infuriated Gunner.

Erie, Pa., Nov. 21.—Riddled with buckshot as the result of being shot by an infuriated hunter after their automobile had run over his hound, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Forster, prominent Erie society folk, are patients at the Hamot hospital.

Both are seriously injured and Mrs. Forster's condition is critical. Their chauffeur, George Keller, was also wounded and three hours afterward Lloyd D. Pastorius was arrested by Detective Sergeant Brown.

The shooting took place near Walnut Creek, fourteen miles west of Erie. The Forster machine ran over a hunting dog owned by Pastorius, and before it had gone five feet after hitting the dog, Pastorius, it is alleged, raised his double-barreled gun to his shoulder and let go both barrels.

Mr. and Mrs. Forster were seated in the rear, and both loads took them square in the face, the bulk of the shot striking Mrs. Forster.

Dr. Houghton, chief physician in attendance at the hospital, said that Mr. Forster will recover, but Mrs. Forster's condition is extremely critical and nothing definite can be said in regard to her for the next twenty-four hours.

Pastorius did not offer the policeman who arrested him any resistance and admitted, it is said, that he had fired the shot. He is being held at headquarters on an open charge.

STRIKERS THROW PEPPER

Violence Again Breaks Out at Little Falls, N. Y.

Little Falls, N. Y., Nov. 21.—Pepper thrown into the eyes of strike-breakers on their way to work in the textile mills and an attack upon a policeman were disorders which led the city authorities to double its police force, fearing a recurrence of the recent rioting.

Mrs. Stanley Debs, a victim of the pepper throwing, caused the arrest of two young women strikers. Jerry Hartnett, a special police officer, was set upon by a crowd and beaten with sticks while escorting a working woman to her home.

The mill managers declare that they are fast breaking up the strike, with recruits to their working ranks every day. Bail from $1000 to $15,000 was set for the leaders and strikers who are being held for the grand jury on charges of rioting.

U. S. ARRESTS MANY DOCTORS

Raids in 72 Cities Involves 173 Persons.

IN ALL SECTIONS OF COUNTRY

Federal Government Accuses Them
 of Using the Mails in Illegal Practice.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Acting under the direction of Postmaster General Hitchcock, postoffice inspectors and United States marshals in seventy-two cities and towns of the country began simultaneous raids for the arrest of 173 persons charged with using the mails to promote illegal medical practices or the sale of drugs and instruments for illegal purposes.

All of the arrests are based upon the alleged misuse of the mails to further the illegal practice or business.

This concerted official action covered the United States from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Lakes to the Gulf. Many of the defendants are prominent, commercially and socially. Some are leading physicians; others are influential business men; yet others are men who live by their wits, and one is a Chinaman.

Strict enforcement of municipal and state laws in the east is said by the postal authorities to account for the few arrests in the large eastern cities. While it is declared violations of the law are frequent in Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, the accused persons have been pursued closely by the state and federal officials.

Postoffice inspectors said that a hotbed of this sort of criminality is in the Pacific coast states. In San Francisco it is asserted a fictitious name was used by several prominent physicians, who employed a woman to do the necessary advertising and clerical work.

Approximately 20 per cent of those arrested or to be arrested send to their patients, either by mail or by express, various compounds in the form of pills or powders. A careful analysis of these compounds is said to have disclosed that some are wholly innocuous, while others are dangerous poisons. The sending of poisons in the mails is expressly forbidden by law.

One of the men accused is said to have been the secretary of his city's board of health. He responded to a decoy letter on the stationery of the board of health. Particular care was taken by the inspectors in collecting the evidence against business concerns—drug houses and remedy companies.

As showing the difficulties encountered, the following case is cited by those who have conducted the investigation:

In Chicago an inspector called upon a physician, after having received a response by mail to a decoy letter. The doctor was cautious, and the inspector was called upon to show the letter he had received. It was in the physician's own handwriting.

Evidently suspicious, he snatched the letter from the inspector's hand, tore it and threw it into the waste basket. Subsequently the inspector returned to the office in the absence of the doctor, obtained the torn letter as an important link in the chain of evidence.

Four of the arrests made under Mr. Cortelyou's direction were made in Pittsburgh, Pa., three of the prisoners being women and the other a Chinaman. They were Dr. Marie Hill, Dr. J. Holt, Dr. Hill and Dr. Jin Fung Moy. They were held under $2000 bail each by United States Commissioner Lindsay for a further hearing on Saturday.

The other arrest was that of Dr. D. Frank Kline, of Lancaster, Pa., who was held under the same bail by United States Commissioner Howell, of that city.

In Newark, N. J., the inspectors arrested Dr. George E. Snowden, of East Orange, on a charge of sending improper literature through the mails. He was held under $2000 bail for a further hearing on Dec. 2. Dr. Snowden, according to the inspectors, went under the aliases of "Madame Desno" and "Dr. Nedos."

Condition of Russian Crown Prince Regarded as Grave.

London, Nov. 21.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail says that Professor Israel, the noted Berlin surgeon, has been summoned to Tsarskoe-Selo, where the imperial family has been staying since its return from Spain.

It is rumored that the continued gravity of the crown prince's illness has led to this step. It is admitted by the court physicians that the case is a serious surgical one.

RAILROAD OFFICERS IGNORANT ON RATES

They Cannot Explain Making of Coal Tariffs.

Philadelphia, Nov. 21.—Three days of futile effort by counsel for complainants against coal carrying railways in the investigation by the state railroad commission into alleged excessive freight rates on anthracite coal, culminated in an admission by George Ziegler, secretary and former controller of the Reading railway.

If the profits of the company should suddenly fall off there would be no means of finding where the loss was occurring.

This surprising statement came at the conclusion of a long series of questions by Ward W. Pierson, chief counsel for the complainants, in which he tried to get at the actual cost to the railroad of transporting anthracite coal.

Mr. Ziegler could tell him that passenger business is handled at a loss and freight business at a profit. He knew that the company made a profit on its business and paid dividends, but he could not tell what kinds of freight made up these profits. And as a close to the fruitless probing, the attorney asked:

"Then you want us to understand, do you, that if the receipts of your company suddenly began to decline and your profits to fall off, you, as the head of the accounting department, could not tell your president and directors where the loss was?" "That is right," said Mr. Ziegler.

Mr. Pierson has called the vice president, the secretary and former controller, the freight traffic manager, the general manager and the general coal freight agent of the Reading, without being able to find out how the present freight rate on anthracite was arrived at, on what it is based, or how the railroad men would go about fixing upon a new rate if one were deemed necessary.

We sell "FARM RIGHT" Dynamite.

The Farmer Knows To-day

The market value of his product is a very important thing for the farmer to know.

There was a time when he bought at the price established by the seller and sold at the mercy of the buyer. Now, with a telephone on the farm, he is on equal footing with city merchant or business man.

Better farms, crops, live stock and prices, is the practical answer to the farm telephone.

Write for free booklet to-day. Address nearest Bell Office.

MARKS NOVELTY IN SCARFS

New Arrangement of Garniture That May Be of Maline, Chiffon or Net, as Desired.

Scarfs of maline, chiffon, or net are still three yards long and at least a yard wide, but they are worn in a wholly novel way. One end of the filmy material, gathered into many deep folds, is ribbon-stayed, pinned to the bodice an inch or more above the waist line, then drawn up one side and across the back of the neck, then down the other side of the bodice to form a deep V, there caught under an ornamental buckle and finally allowed to run diagonally over the side of the skirt. Sometimes the scarf is caught half way down the skirt with a second ornamental buckle matching the one used upon the waist and again it hangs freely almost to the hem of the skirt. The new scarfs are untrimmed and have no finishing other than the sel-vages of the material at the sides, but the end which is not ribbon-stayed must, of course, be finished with a deep hem.

Toilet Wash.

If it is necessary to cleanse the face without the use of water, a good toilet wash is desirable. One may be made by mingling half an ounce of almond oil with half a pint of rose water, and to the mixture adding five drops of oil of tarter, and stirring the whole up until thoroughly blended.

Exonerating the Police.

"Yes, sir," averred the New York man, "my house was robbed. Looted in broad daylight."
"Where were the police?"
"Now hold on. I don't say the police were mixed up in it."

The Children Are Thinking Of Christmas

Is it not about time that you began thinking of it also?

And not only thinking, but doing something about it?

The children are counting the days. It is up to you to count your money and buy those presents.

That is the sort of thinking that counts for something.

The earlier you shop the longer you will have to congratulate yourself that it is over.

If you shop early enough you will be able to recover financially before the day arrives.

Then you will not be broke at Christmas.

Wouldn't that be a happy feeling not to be stone broke during the holidays?

The only way to experience that happiness is to do your shopping now.

Don't let the children get ahead of you. Think of them and for them and then act. In that way you will make sure that they will not be disappointed.

SHOP EARLY AND BE AT PEACE.

NO HUNTERS' LICENSE

Game Commission Drop Matter. Sentiment for License Grows.

The State Game Commission will not introduce a resident hunters' license tax bill in the approaching Legislature, but that does not mean that no such bill will come forward. "The commission is through with leading the fight," said Chief Game Protector Joseph Kalbfus. "That proposed law is an excellent one and we have tried our best to demonstrate it and to rouse the people to the necessity of the law. Now we are through. We are prepared to stand back of this and any other good bill with all the power we have, and we will, but the fight will have to be led by some interest other than the State Game Commission."

No doubt exists that an up-to-date, or virtual duplicate, of the resident license tax bills of the past will be introduced early in the session. Dr. Kalbfus has authentic information that such a bill will be presented with the endorsement of sportsmen in the western part of the State. He says:

A pronounced change of front regarding the proposed legislation is said to have occurred among farmers all over the State. When the law was first proposed several years ago the farmers were among the bitterest opponents of it. Now men who travel about the State among the agriculturists say that they are coming to regard it with favor.

Deputy Secretary of Agriculture A. L. Martin, Economic Zoologist H. A. Surface and other agricultural officials agree in this. Dr. Kalbfus says the same information reaches him from reliable sources. The farmers, tired of the nuisance of careless and impudent hunters running riot over the fields, realize, it is said, that such a license tax would give them protection and at the same time protect every one concerned.

PAPER TOLD HIM

Hears of Brother's Death through Newspaper Accident.

Through a newspaper account of the death last Tuesday of Martin Stouter, who received fatal injuries in an auto accident during the first part of September, a brother of the late Mr. Stouter was apprised of his death and enabled to attend the funeral, which he would not have been able to do had he not been able to learn of his brother's death through the paper. Felix Stouter lives in Los Angeles. He started east to see his brother who, for some time had been in a serious condition, but thinking that his brother was not in a critical way he did not hurry but spent some time visiting different places on the route.

The family knew that he was coming east, and thought that any time he would arrive. The night before the funeral nothing was heard from him. Mr. Stouter arrived in Hagerstown Wednesday night and in a hotel there picked up a newspaper containing the account of the death. He was terribly shocked to learn the sad news. Realizing that only a few hours remained before the funeral he secured a team and drove to Emmitsburg and in this way was able to arrive before the funeral was held.

Over Three Million of the Little Christmas Stamps Printed.

The Red Cross Seal campaign has begun. The Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis has completed its preliminary arrangements for the state wide sale of the Christmas stamps. The stamps will be sold in practically every county in Pennsylvania and in every town of importance in the state. Altogether between 3,000,000 and 3,500,000 seals will be distributed. The design this year is considered to be more artistic than that of last year. A small red cross stands out in each corner of the stamp. Across the top appear the words "Merry Christmas", and at the bottom "Happy New Year". In the center of the stamp is a picture of Santa Claus with "American Red Cross" above and "1912" below. Sprigs of holly complete the decorative work on the stamp.
